480 años de la Fortaleza de San Juan de Ulúa

FIRST INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON MILITARY ARCHITECTURE AND FORTIFIED ENCLOSURES

Historical research, interpretation, conservation, Materials, Rehabilitation, Re-Use, Management, Sustainable Development and Tourism

August 24 to 28, 2015
Veracruz-Xalapa, México

TENTATIVE PROGRAM

PARTICIPATING ENTITIES:

National Institute of Anthropology and History
ICOFORT International Scientific Committee on Fortification and Military Heritage
Universidad Veracruzana and Institute Anthropology
Veracruz INAH Center
Museum Fort San Juan de Ulúa
National Autonomous University of Mexico

OBJECTIVE:

This Congress is being held in the framework of the commemoration of the 480 years since the beginning of the construction of Fort San Juan de Ulúa. The conference partners also are honoring the 10th anniversary ICOFORT International Scientific Committee on Fortifications and Military Heritage along with ICOMOS International Council on Monuments and Sites celebrating their 50th anniversary. The joining of these three professional activities together along with the contributing interest from various educational institutions and research groups on Fortifications and Military Heritage and with the kind and generous support of numerous sponsors both private and public have made this event possible.

JUSTIFICATION:

These events promote the disclosure of information that demonstrate the works which have been produced and may serve as a basis for the rescue, conservation and enhancement, at the same time providing space for reflection and the exchange of information regarding research, analysis, Management, Sustainability, Tourism, Conservation and Interpretation of Fortifications and Military Heritage.

BACKGROUND:

In 1997 the Fort of San Juan de Ulúa in the city of Veracruz, Mexico held the FORUM UNESCO Workshop/University and Heritage on Restoration Project Fortress of San Juan de Ulúa. These meetings focused and are a reflection on the importance of the Military Heritage of Veracruz. From that time to this day no other event of this type has taken place to show the
